

An RISD alumni, Mr. Roy Allen brings over 25 years of experience in performing and teaching saxophone to students -- ranging from 6th graders to undergraduate and graduate level students at the college/university level. In addition to teaching in the LHHS cluster, Mr. Allen is the Director of Instrumental Studies Professor of Saxophone at Brookhaven College in Dallas and is Adjunct Professor of Saxophone at Texas Women's University.

Mr. Allen has performed with the East Texas, Mesquite, Garland, Las Colinas, Waco and the Dallas Symphony Orchestras – as well as the TAMU-Commerce Wind Ensemble, TWU Wind Symphony, Richardson Community Band and the Camerata Woodwind Quintet. Mr. Allen has been a tenured member of the Dallas Winds (formerly the Dallas Wind Symphony) since 1992. Mr. Allen was a performer/composer/arranger for the cover band TMPL. Mr. Allen is an active clinician and adjudicator state and national-wide. Mr. Allen received his Bachelor and Master degrees from Baylor University.